TREE PROTECTION DETAILS:

- NOTES:
1. Tree protection information must be read in conjunction with Calabrin and Associates report for further details.
 2. The PPZ must be treated as a conservative guide only. It generally will allow for cases where more roots than usual may be encroaching in the direction of the building.
 3. The PPZ do not take into account root borers or impediment effects such as those caused by existing buildings.
 4. Drenching with water of the PPZ must occur soon after any excavation has occurred close to the PPZ.
 5. Signs to be placed for the minimum distance of encroachment should be increased by 15% for each successive side of encroachment.
 6. Drenching with water of the PPZ must occur soon after any excavation has occurred close to the PPZ.
 7. Signs to be placed for the minimum distance of encroachment should be increased by 15% for each successive side of encroachment.
 8. Drenching with water of the PPZ must occur soon after any excavation has occurred close to the PPZ.
 9. Signs to be placed for the minimum distance of encroachment should be increased by 15% for each successive side of encroachment.
